OVERVIEW

At the Orca Institute we are always striving to be on the cutting edge of technology. We believe that this focus only serves to enhance our ability to delivery high quality content to our students. In keeping with this belief we are now offering a fully interactive virtual Classroom.

More specifically, students now have the ability to participate in real time in our Vancouver classes from anywhere. The student will be able to see the whole classroom, ask questions and see and hear everything happening in the room. If the online participants have a web cam then they can be viewed by the class.

This option allows new and existing distance students an opportunity to attend classes's without having to travel. In addition to offering the following range of packages for current students this option is available with all of our courses for new students. At this time classes's are typically held on Sunday's from 1:00 to 5:00PM Pacific time. Classes consist of new and old students allowing participants to attend at anytime at any level.
